The Memory Keeper

Mattapoissett Historical Society

By Marilou Newell

Museum Curator Elizabeth Hutchinson knew that the documents, bits and pieces, articles of clothing, and pictures from the police and fire departments held memories. The community responded to those memory keepers on June 26.

On that evening, the front and back doors of the Mattapoissett Historical Society Museum were flung wide open. With music playing softly in the background and tables laid to overflowing with good things to eat and drink, they hosted an open house and auction.

What the public really came out for, however, was the collection of Police and Fire Department memorabilia expertly organized and put on display for this special occasion – newspaper clippings, crime scene photographs, call logs, uniforms, equipment, many lives and times being relived and relieved. This tangible evidence of those who had been on duty, protecting the citizens of Mattapoissett, is a combination of materials that has been loaned to the museum or has been rediscovered within its walls. The event brought out people who once worked together or who are still working together today. There was laughter mixed with respectful recollections for those who have passed away.

Retired Police Officers Ken Pacheco, Kent Davis,

Edward Pina, and Chief Moran (retired), along with Chief Mary Lyons and Officer Anthony Days, enjoyed coming together to reminisce about the old days while looking over the items on display. When asked about highlights of their careers, most said that it was the strong bond of being in service together that they remembered the most – the friendships that have lasted many decades. Oh, there was mention of drug busts, thieves caught, recovered stolen goods, thousands of traffic stops leading to arrests, and the constant threat of danger mixed with good natured ribbing. “Lots of things have changed ... lots of guys are gone,” reflected Pacheco. For this night, however ‘it was all good.’

July 4th Deadlines

All deadlines during the July 4th week remain the same. Our office will be closed on Friday July 4th. The deadline for Display Advertising for the July 10 edition is still Friday July 4th at 3pm but changes or additions will only be accepted by email (office@wanderer.com).

On the Cover: As Francis Scott Key wrote, “Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave, O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave?” Happy Birthday to these United States and w wish everyone a Happy and Safe 4th of July. Photo by Felix Perez Surprisingly, a number of those who visited the museum did so for the first time. In spite of being employed by the town for years, both Pacheco and his wife, Melody, had never been inside the museum. It was the draw of this exhibit that brought them in. More surprisingly, they had never seen on display the donation they gave the museum – a scale model of the whaling ship Charles W. Morgan. Pacheco had purchased it from a shop in New Bedford as a gift for his parents back in the 1960s. It came back into his possession upon their passing and now is permanently docked in the museum.

Mattapoisett's Fire Department was also represented. Several active duty members, including Mark Nadeau, Justin Dubois, and Deputy Chief Walter Morgado, came out to view the antiquated firefighting gear and historic documents. Firefighting has its own unique set of potential dangers for those willing to do this dangerous job. Human instinct is to run away from a burning building. Firefighters run towards it. Although techniques, equipment, and understanding the science of structures and fire have evolved over the decades, the basic principles have not. Chief Morgado, whose career on the Mattapoisett Fire Department spans an amazing 51 years with over 30 years as a chief officer, reflected on fire suppression. He said, "...put white on red..." meaning water on fire – period.

As Chris Richards performed a smooth variety of folk and soft rock on his guitar in the carriage house, the assembled enjoyed refreshments and then it was time for Seth Mendell, well-known local historian, to play the role of auctioneer. Nautical themed items went quickly, raising an impressive sum for the museum's coffers.

The museum has a long list of activities planned throughout the summer. Go to www.mattapoisethistricalsociety.org for complete details, or call 508-758-2844. The official opening is July 2. Summer hours are Wednesday through Sunday, 1:00 to 4:00 pm for a fee of $5 for adults and $2 for children; Society members free. The Fire and Police exhibit will be on display

Traditional Tri-Town Independence Day

By Jean Perry

There will not be any fireworks in Marion this year, but there are still fun things to do in Tri-Town on July 4 and throughout the holiday weekend.

For fireworks, New Bedford always puts on a spectacular display over the harbor, and with a starting time at 9:00 pm, they are one of the earliest in the area on July 4, which is rather convenient for families with small children.

Middleboro will have their July 4 fireworks at 10:00 pm at the Thomas S. Peirce Playground, and will hold them on July 5 at the same time and place in the case of rain.

Onset is not too far away, and fireworks there are on Saturday, July 5, beginning at 8:30 pm, viewable at Onset Beach and Bay.

But July 4th isn't just about fireworks. The traditional Tri-Town Independence Day events are going on as well, with the annual Marion July 4th Parade kicking off from the ball field beside the Marion Town House at 9:00 am, turning east on Main Street to Spring Street and north to Route 6. The parade will then turn down Front Street and head south to Main Street and back to the ball field.

The Marion Horse Show at Washburn Memorial Park will start at 8:30 am with the regular class competition in Ring One. The Trail Class in Ring Two starts at 10:00 am and runs until about 1:00 pm. The Mattapoissett Lions Club will have a food booth, serving breakfast and lunch. The Marion Horse Show began back in 1947 when Charles R. Washburn started the tradition as a fundraiser for local youth groups.

The Marion Concert Band will give a special Independence Day-themed performance on Saturday, July 5 at the Robert Broomhead Bandstand on Island Wharf off Front Street. The show starts a little earlier this year at 7:00 pm, and runs until 8:30 pm. The band will play an array of patriotic songs and then every Friday night until August 29, the band will resume its regular concert series. The concerts are free and open to the public!

Over in Mattapoissett, it's the 44th annual five-mile Mattapoissett Road Race! The race begins at Shipyard

Marion Mile

By Julia O'Rourke

The Marion Mile began again on June 24 with 100 runners. Chris Adams, a Cross Country Coach, Track Coach, and Spanish Teacher at Tabor, coordinates the weekly Marion Mile races each summer. The races are held every Tuesday night during the summer at 6:30 pm and have become a weekly routine for some of the Tri-Town's youngest residents.

The milers complete a route around Tabor's upper campus, while the runners that are six or under complete a shorter version. All finishers receive a ribbon and at the end of the summer, the top runners in each age group receive an award as long as they have competed in at least three races that summer.

Adams organizes the event each week with the help of his wife, Kathy, as well as high school and college students, the majority of whom Adams coached at Tabor. All of the volunteers are runners themselves and many competed in the Marion Mile before high school.

The winners in the first week of races were Prosser Friedman and Koko Kelly for the mile race and Logan Houlihan and Isabella Morotta in the half-mile race.

Young runners can register throughout the summer to run in the Marion Mile. The event continues to instill a love of running and racing in the youth of the Tri-Town.

Boating Accident Leads to Fatality in Marion

Marion Police Department Press Release

At approximately 1:00 pm on Sunday, June 29, the Marion Harbormaster's Office received a distress call for a person in the water with no life preserver off of Converse Point. The Marion Harbormaster as well as Marion Police and Marion Fire responded to the area. Other responding marine units included the Buzzards Bay Task Force, Harbormasters from Wareham, Bourne and Mattapoisett, New Bedford Fire, and the U.S. Coast Guard.

The reporting party and boat were located. A female on board the powerboat out of Onset, MA stated that her husband, while attempting to fix a bumper, had lost his balance when a wave struck the boat and had fallen overboard. Seas were approximately four feet and choppy, and the wind was at 15 mph from the southwest.

The female and boat were brought back to Island Wharf by a member of the Harbormaster's unit. The female was evaluated on scene and transported to the Marion Police Department. At approximately 2:23 pm, a body was recovered by a passing boater. The Coast Guard attempted resuscitation of the 66-year old white male. Marion Harbormaster then transported the recovered party into Converse Point. He was transported by Marion EMS to Tobey Hospital. The party was pronounced deceased at the hospital.

"This event brings so many people together in Charles' memory," said Diane Bondi-Pickles, Charles' mother. Charles lost his life suddenly in 2006 in a skateboarding accident.

Attendees included friends, classmates, relatives and neighbors of Charles and some who never knew him.

"Charles was one of my culinary students," said Michael Petitbon, who came from Cumberland, RI with his family. "He was one of my most talented students and fun to be around," said Petitbon.

"I knew him through friends," said Peter LePage of Dartmouth, who brought a group with him on the cruise.

"I didn't know him, but I support the cause ... inner city kids learning to sail a boat sounds like a great idea to me," said Zoriada Bohn of Acushnet.

"We host this cruise to celebrate the things that were most important to Charles which were family, friends, good food and being on the water," said Bondi-Pickles. "We don't do a silent auction or sell T-shirts ... this is just about enjoying the company of good people in a

Board Reviews Rochester Country Fair Booklet

Rochester Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

With an empty seat where Town Administrator Richard LaCamera used to sit and a light agenda, the Board of Selectmen reviewed the Rochester Country Fair booklet for the event, and approved the appointments for the Rochester Country Fair Board of Directors, committee members, and supporting volunteers.

Highlights discussed were the scheduled musical appearances by John Cafferty & The Beaver Brown Band and Jennel Garcia from Season Two of "The X-Factor."

Some new events have been added to the program this year, including a new parade route that will start and finish at the Rochester Memorial School. A Highland Games Exhibition has also been added, featuring athletes competing in Scottish Heavy Athletics.

Adventure Bound, and mechanical bull riding. Yeehaw!

The board approved the placement of the directional signs along main roads in Rochester directing visitors to the fairgrounds, and Rochester Country Fair Committee Co-Chairman Julie Koczera said she would soon meet with the police and fire chiefs to smooth out the remaining details.

"That's awesome," said Selectman Naida Parker about Garcia's scheduled performance. "I know she's going to be a big positive draw as far as that goes." Parker then requested that Koczera return again to brief new Town Administrator Michael McCue on the country fair events once he is situated in his position, pending final

SIGNS OF ILLNESS

I just took over the care of my grandfather's dog. What are some of the signs of illness that I should look for?

First, choose one of the veterinarians in your area and make sure that your new dog has his annual vaccinations and heartworm test. Then, signs of illness usually include a change in his routine. You may notice: loss of appetite, vomiting, diarrhea, nasal discharge, coughing, excessive thirst, frequent urination, pale or bleeding gums, excessive scratching or licking, and lumps or growths on or under the skin. Limping and reluctance to move are signs of pain and discomfort.

contract negotiations, which took place earlier in the evening during an executive session with McCue.

"You're good to go," Selectman Richard Nunes told Koczera.

In other news, the board accepted the resignation of Old Rochester Regional School Committee member Cary Humphrey, and announced to the public that interested parties who would like to serve the remainder of the year on the ORR School Committee should send a letter of interest to the Board of Selectmen.

The next meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen is July 7 at 6:30 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

Solar Farm Project Remains in the Dark

Marion Zoning Board of Appeals

By Jean Perry

Visibly disappointed, Dale and Laura Briggs, the applicants for a variance to construct a solar farm off County Road, left the Marion Town House on June 26 shaking their heads in perplexity after ZBA Chairman Eric Peirce told the Briggses that the board will have to familiarize itself with the new solar bylaw and try to apply it to the new project plans.

The Briggses on May 28 submitted a second, slightly altered plan to the ZBA, and according to Peirce, the board was getting its first glance at the plan and still needs to do some more "homework" before it can render a decision.

"Whether we think solar is a wonderful thing," said Peirce, "We have to work it into the bureaucracy."

Some abutters in attendance spoke in favor of the project.

"I'm in favor," said Joseph Barboza. "He's a good neighbor." Others said they thought it would be good for the Town, and one offered the board photographs of the site, which the board willingly accepted.

The engineer for the solar project told the board that he felt the project would actually be a less-desirable project if the plans were to adhere to the new bylaw. Setbacks would shift the project closer to abutters to the west.

The board silently flipped through papers, looking through pages of the bylaw to find the section on setbacks before setting the papers aside.

"It may be fine," said Peirce. "I just can't quote [the bylaw] off the top of my head."

Planning Board member Eileen Marum, present at the meeting, spoke in favor of applying the previous zoning bylaw since the original plan was submitted before the new bylaw was adopted.

"Our perception is that original application is done and gone," said Peirce. At least that was the board's opinion, he said. "The courts can fight me."

The board has until August 28 – ninety days after the applications was submitted – to either issue or deny the variance.

After the public hearing was closed, the board tossed around dates for the next meeting to address the Briggs' application.

"I don't want to put it out that far," said board member Betsey Dunn in response to a suggested meeting date for August. Board member John Sylvia commented that he would not be attending due to a prior engagement.

"Then they can't sue you because your name's not on it," joked Peirce.

The board set a date to issue a decision for July 17.

Also at the meeting, the board approved the special permit for Brew Fish – the former Wave Restaurant & Bar – to affix awnings that would have lettering, technically making them signs.

"Off the cuff, I don't see any issues," said Peirce.

Board member Bob Alves called approving the special permit a "no-brainer," adding that the awnings appear "tasteful."

The board approved the special permit that evening.

The application for Tabor Academy was

ConCom Approves SLT Pathway

Marion Conservation Commission

By Jean Perry

A newly acquired property adjacent to the nine-acre Howland Marsh on Point Road was approved June 25 for a maximum four-foot wide walking path that will connect with the existing Howland Marsh path.

Marion Conservation Commission members issued the Negative 2 and Negative 3 determinations, meaning that work will occur within the 100-foot buffer zone but will not alter or affect the wetlands, and granted the Sippican Lands Trust authority to maintain the path and to also lay a temporary "bog bridge" (two boards) over an intermittent stream.

Steward Yelena Sheynin said the lands trust has bigger plans for the osprey marsh property later in the year, pending a grant from the State to make more open space reserves handicap- and wheelchair-accessible. Sheynin mentioned wooden boardwalks as a possibility, for which the lands trust would have to file a Notice of Intent in the future.

Sheynin said what was most important at this point was to get permission to do the preliminary work by the end of July, a condition set by the landowner.

"In the meantime, we'll do the minimum that'll let you meet your commitment," said Chairman Norman Mills.

Also at the meeting, Tabor Academy is tearing down a 12-foot by 16-foot stone building on Ryder Lane and will eventually install a low-lying hedge in its place.

Matthew Vander Pol presented the project that calls for razing the building, but keeping the stones for a future project and saving the roof structure for a project away from Tabor Academy. The commission issued a Negative 2 and Negative 3 determination.

The commission also issued a Negative 2 and 3 determination for Weweantic Properties LLC, care of Jack Hirschmann of 78 Wareham Street, to add grout and cement to the top of an existing licensed dock composed of rocks, situated right on the shoreline.

The commission performed a site-visit of the property and, with no plans to increase the dock's footprint or alter the rocks in any way, approved the work.

Also issued a Negative 2 and 3, Barbara Nilson of 41 East Avenue has the go-ahead to upgrade the existing septic system at the property.

Marion Town House Future Discussed

Town House Advisory Committee

By Joan Hartnett-Barry

The first meeting of the recently formed Town House Advisory Committee met on Thursday evening at the Marion Police Station to discuss various options to address the aging Marion Town House.

Members introduced themselves, giving a brief background on life skills and why they wanted to join the committee. Six of the eight members attended and Shaun Cormier, town facilities manager, chaired the meeting.

In the introductions, Priscilla Ditchfield noted that she joined the committee to represent both the Marion Council on Aging and the Friends of the Marion Council on Aging.

"Right now, one-third of our population is over 60 years-old and in ten years it will be one-quarter of the town," said Ditchfield. "And we are one of the few towns without a senior center."

A discussion ensued over parking issues should a senior center be added to the mix. Several members stated that the ball field behind town hall would have to become a parking lot if a senior center was added to the project.

The committee had a robust discussion about exactly what the Marion Board of Selectmen challenged the committee to accomplish.

"We need to ask the Board of Selectmen if they want us to consider a senior center or an expansion of the library in our considerations," said member Bill Saltonstall. "We need to know what we are challenged to do as a committee."

After much discussion regarding space needs, the committee agreed that members Wayne Mattson and Ditchfield would research similar towns that have had recent renovations and the cost of those renovations. Members Cormier and Saltonstall would research space planning at the town house, and Ditchfield and member Robert Raymond would look into Council on Aging options for a town of approximately 5,000 residents.

Other committee members include Evelyn Crocker, Meg Steinberg, and Jon Henry (representing the BOS). It was noted that Henry had over four decades of experience in the building industry including a major stint as a member of the Army Corps of Engineers.

On the agenda was a discussion to elect a committee chairman and clerk, but the committee agreed that the decision would be postponed until all committee members were present.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, July 10 at 6:30 pm at the Marion Police Station.

Resident Explains Illegal Logging Violation

Rochester Conservation Commission

By Jean Perry

The impetus for the illegal clearing of dozens of trees at Christopher Faustino, Jr. and Britney Ashley's property at 510 New Bedford Road was property insurance, according to the couple's representative, Rick Charon from Charon Associates.

According to Charon, the property owners' insurance provider had concerns over some trees located near the house that could fall and damage the structure, and Charon claimed the insurance company would not renew the insurance policy unless the potential tree damage was mitigated.

Rochester Conservation Commission Chairman Rosemary Smith pointed out, though, that this would only address the trees near the house, and not those that were cut down within the 800 square-foot intrusion into the property's wetlands.

The couple hired Faustino & Sons Logging Company to cut down trees within the 100-foot buffer zone, and some within the 25-foot "no touch" zone. The work was done without ConCom approval and without a state issued forest management plan.

Replication will be required for the unpermitted work, but the commission refrained from addressing the matter until the Massachusetts Natural Heritage & Endangered Species Program assesses whether natural habitats of protected and endangered species of flora and fauna were or could be disturbed under a subsequent forest management plan.

Charon said the altered resource area is currently stabilized.

On behalf of Robin Brown, an abutter at 508 New Bedford Road, Shane Wright asked Charon to point out the property line in relation to the work line on the delineation map, alleging there was a disturbance to Brown's property.

"There's a tiny intrusion here," said Charon, pointing to a small area where trees were cleared from Brown's property.

Is it not the workers' job to know where the property line is, Wright asked.

"If there is an intrusion, it's a very minor intrusion," said Charon.

"You can't argue the fact that they should've known," said ConCom member John Teal. "They made a mistake."

Faustino Jr. said the intent for the cleared area is for a larger piece of yard, and the rest of the tree harvesting would be for firewood.

Brown submitted a letter expressing her concerns, starting with the new open clearing in the forest on the Faustino and Ashley side of the property line.

"Since Faustino and Sons is a well known long-established local logging company based in Rochester, I know that they are well aware of the laws pertaining to wetlands ... boundary lines and trespassing," reads Brown's letter. "Therefore I was very upset and concerned to learn that they had in fact trespassed on my property and cut my trees along the wetland border." She added that it was "deliberate."

Faustino had concerns about jumping the gun on a restoration plan, when a subsequent forest management plan might call for cutting down the plants and trees replicated.

"I didn't think we did anything wrong because I was told that was the [boundary] of the buffer zone," said Faustino. "We didn't know."

The matter was continued until August 5 to give time to hear back from Natural Heritage.

Also at the meeting, the commission issued a Negative 3 for two lots belonging to Bruce Maksy, Jr. on Dexter Lane, meaning the work done will not alter the resource areas and no Notice of Intent is required.

Maksy plans to construct a house on each lot, as well as related work within the 100-foot buffer zone, adding that he was considering placing a conservation restriction on the areas of a lot that is home to a bog pond to preserve it and ensure it is properly maintained as per the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection.

The commission continued the hearing for Kei Lau of 566 Snipatuit Road to install a 4 foot by 54 foot dock, two 4 foot by 12 foot ramps, repair the existing seaplane hangar and stairway, and remove trees within the wetlands.

"We do not have the go-ahead from Natural Heritage at this point," said Charon, also representing Lau. The hearing was continued until July 15.

The next Rochester Conservation Commission meeting will be July 15 at 7:00 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

Fresh Water Leak Ongoing Problem at Wharves

Mattapoisett Marine Advisory Board

By Marilou Newell

The June 26 meeting of the Mattapoisett Marine Advisory Board found Harbormaster Jill Simmons reporting on the ongoing fresh water leak problems that are drenching the wharves, making the structures unstable and causing usage fees to soar. Simmons reported to the board that she had recently met with the water commissioners to ask for an abatement of the $13,000 water bill that shocked her upon receipt. She said that the average bills for the last several years have been around $1200, so when she received the stunning bill for several thousands of dollars, she was aghast.

Simmons said it took some doing to even find out where the water meters were located for the wharves. Members of the water and sewer department helped and showed her the location of the meters in a locked cabinet. She said she hadn't been aware of their location or whose responsibility they were.

As for the leaks, they continue. One leak has been isolated on Mello Wharf. That will be repaired. But she said that at a rate of between 100 and 150 gallons per hour, water continues to leak from somewhere.

It has been one thing after another as the new harbormaster faces structural and infra-structure issues at the town wharves. Simmons recently discovered an electrical problem that could easily have killed someone on Mello Wharf. She had the electricity shut off. Electrical repair work is expected to be completed by June 28. The water pipe repairs are to follow, but at what cost?

This brought the meeting round to the waterfront enterprise deficit and confusion over the exact revenue stream that feeds into its balance sheet. Chairman Alan Gillis had sent town administrator Mike Gagne an e-mail on June 26 which reads in part "... at the May meeting ... it was brought to the attention of the Board that only 50% of the boat excise tax is provided to the Waterfront Enterprise Fund ... the Board requests 100%, if, in fact that is the case." Gillis received a reply from Gagne that reads: "Please be advised that for the past four years the Town has allocated more than 100% of the Boat Excise to the Waterfront Expenses, when the town accountant returns from vacation she and I will make a list of funds for the past four years that were put to the waterfront from the Boat Excise and General Fund. As I have said to the Harbormaster Mattapoissett charges for boat related items for those using the Waterfront and Waters of Mattapoissett are significantly under the average of like ports. I have asked the Harbormaster to compile the data, present to me, the MAB and Selectmen by September. MAB's input into this data findings and recommendation is sought."

After the reading of Gagne's reply, board members reacted by stating that they have already provided the fees data requested by Gagne, with the result showing that Mattapoisett was charging an average between those towns which were much higher and others much lower. Board member Carlos DeSousa said, "We still have a deficit issue to be dealt with." Members concurred they needed to know everything that went into the waterfront enterprise fund to determine not only what needs to be raised, but what they might be missing.

The board also discussed their ongoing edits to the Rules and Regulations. They have completed most of that work with "Fees" remaining. However, until the issues about revenue sources are clarified, that piece will remain incomplete.

Simmons returned to the problems she faced in collecting all the information needed to fully understand the enterprise business and work through financial woes. She said, "The wharves are the main feature of the town ... we need to get them fixed."

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Marine Advisory Board is July 31 at 7:00 pm in the Town Hall conference room.

School Committees Tie up Loose Ends

Tri-Town School Committees

By Jean Perry

A string of short meetings of the various Tri-Town school committees on June 26 closed out several outstanding items of business for the end of the school year, and the end of the fiscal year as well.

Superintendent Doug White approached the Rochester School Committee members present to touch base on the residency policy for the Rochester School District, as some issues with potential new students moving into the district next school year have developed.

White said, similar to last year, "the same dilemma" is poised to take place, as some of the houses being constructed in town – with White specifically mentioning Connet Woods – have hit some snags in their development.

The policy allows students moving into the district to attend school within the Rochester School District within a period of 30 days from closing on the house.

"Residency has always been a tricky situation," said White. "How do we want to address these students?" he asked the committee. He said he was looking for guidance and support because at least one family moving into the district will not officially reside in Rochester at the start of the school year as projected. Discussion headed toward sticking with the 30-day policy.

"But is it detrimental to the child to do that?" asked school committee member Meagan Bennett, for the sake of "playing devil's advocate."

"There is a long history of residency issues," said member Robin Rounseville.

White said it was a case of "best interest versus stand your ground." He added that one family will not see official residency until November, about three months into the school year and well beyond the 30-day residency policy.

"It's really [aimed at] people who are thought to not live here, but their children are here in school," said Vice Chairman Tina Rood. "There have been cases of students who do not live here."

Looking to remain on "solid ground," Rounseville said, "I think we need to hold fast to our policy."

"I'd like to say that we could just let them all come, but..." said school committee member Jennifer Kulak trailing off.

In other news, the Old Rochester Regional Joint Committee approved the appointment of Michael Nelson as the new director of student services. Nelson will replace retiring director of student services, Theresa Hamm.

Nelson has been the out-of-district/district-wide education coordinator for Walpole Public Schools since 2011 and will start with the ORR School District in August.

The Rochester and Mattapoisett School Committees both approved a new district-wide copier lease that White says will save the district money and provide more efficiency by having the same provider for all six schools.

The committees also gave White the authorization to use leftover fiscal year 2014 school budget funds to pre-pay three months of special education private school tuition and program services for FY15.

well-managed tour that had all of its bases covered. The tour proved to be richly rewarding for everyone involved.

The benefits were many. Scholarship funds were raised. It was an opportunity for people in and outside the community to socialize and get to know one another better. Seeing what other homeowners do with their property might inspire the reluctant gardener to try out new ideas. But the biggest reward was seeing the event come off smoothly and watching visitors enjoy what you folks and your volunteers made possible. Congratulations on a job done well!

media in our quest to get day-to-day management of the Spragues Cove stormwater basin at Silvershell Beach out of the hands of the Conservation Commission.

In the mid-1990s, the town voted overwhelmingly to construct the basin. There were financial donations from residents and over 130 volunteers to do the initial plantings. The Garden Discussion Group donated money to include wildflower plantings and the Town was able to secure a grant to plant shrubs on the interior dikes to keep the geese from nesting. All this has been destroyed.

At the 2014 annual Town Meeting, it was the $12,500 dollar request by the Conservation Commission for vegetation control that sparked our petition drive.

Annie Rockwell's husband was one of the original designers of the Spragues Cove project and is chair of the Open Space Acquisition Commission. We have asked that group to establish a subcommittee of stormwater professionals and experts to oversee management of the five storm water basins they now control, and, hopefully,

How does chiropractic care help seniors?

Researchers for Topics in Clinical Chiropractic found that for seniors age 75 and over, "Chiropractic users were less likely to have been hospitalized, less likely to have used a nursing home, more likely to report a better health status, more likely to exercise vigorously, and more likely to be mobile in the community. In addition, they were less likely to use prescription drugs."

Further supporting this improvement in quality of life, a study published in the Journal of Manipulative and Physiological Therapeutics found that Medicare patients who had regular chiropractic care "reported making only half the annual number of visits to medical providers compared with the national average for people age 65 years and over."

We have resorted to using Annie's Facebook page that was set up by her grandchildren more than a few years ago. Until a few days ago, we hadn't visited the popular website. To be honest, our younger friends told us we were too old-fashioned! It was not easy for us to navigate, but with our grandkids' help, the petition is now up on Annie's Facebook page. Whew!

The petition asks the Selectmen to assign responsibility for Spragues Cove artificial marsh to the Marion Open Space Acquisition Commission and can be found on Annie Rockwell's Facebook page, or if you are so inclined, you can sign up by just sending her an email: pmfarm@verizon.net.

Friends of the Mattapoissett Bike Path

The Friends of the Mattapoissett Bike Path have two new programs to make Mattapoissett as safe and welcoming as possible for our resident and visitor bicyclists. First, the "Bike Friendly Mattapoissett Map" will be available at our Harbor Days booth. Sponsored by 29 local bike-friendly businesses, this map is waterproof and durable, detailing the best biking roads in the Tri-Town area as well as Fairhaven, and providing directions for five great rides from 8 to 35 miles. The map is yours for a minimum donation of $5. All proceeds go to the Bike Path project. After Harbor Days, the map will be available at several Bike-Friendly Businesses in town.

Also available at Harbor Days is the Bike-Friendly Rewards Card. The Rewards Card program will fund bike racks around Town. When you donate $25 to help purchase and install bike racks, you receive a card that entitles you to discounts at participating businesses around town. The total value of all the possible rewards well exceeds $25. So please look for us at our Harbor Days booth.

In news about the Bike Path, 2014 has been a very productive year. We are on schedule and if all goes well, the bike path from Mattapoissett Neck to Depot Street should be under construction next fall. Plans are under state and federal environmental review right now, as well as in review with Massachusetts Department of Transportation. We expect there will be a public hearing in September.

Calm, clear waters and bright sunshine greeted swimmers as they gathered at The Edge Seafood & Lounge (formerly Davy's Locker) beach in New Bedford. The first swimmers started at 7:15 am, and by 8:45 am the final swimmer had covered the 1.2 mile course and arrived at the finish line at Fort Phoenix Beach State Reservation in Fairhaven.

Measured at 72 degrees, water conditions "were perfect," according to Morgan McCarthy of East Orleans, who finished as the fastest female swimmer for the second year in a row with a time of 21:46. McCarthy, along with eight other swimmers, received the elite "Six-Mile Award" for completing her fifth Buzzards Bay Swim – the equivalent of swimming the entire six-mile width of Buzzards Bay.

The event drew swimmers from nearly 100 communities, including participants from as far as away as Florida, South Dakota, and Australia. Swimmers ranged in age from 12 to 74.

"This event is a great statement of the importance of a clean, healthy Buzzards Bay," said Coalition President Mark Rasmussen. "I'm thrilled that so many people are coming to New Bedford Harbor to celebrate our local waters this weekend."

Dartmouth, Bill Muldoon of Mattapoisett, Matt Shenker of Pocasset and Dan Vasconcellos of Pembroke – have been working toward an exciting challenge. If they each raise $5,000, longtime swimmer Larry Fish of West Falmouth will donate an additional $10,000. As of the morning of the Swim, Vasconcellos and Shenker had raised $5,700 and $5,640 respectively, the top two individual fundraisers.

“A lot of people stepped up to donate – even people I’d never met!” said 18-time Buzzards Bay Swim participant Vasconcellos, a freelance illustrator. As a thank you, Vasconcellos offered donors a one-of-a-kind envelope cartoon drawing.

Mystery novels in familiar local settings for summer reading

Clement R. Beaulieu of Fairhaven presents two historical mystery novels.

His first mystery novel, Bad Lucky Number, published in 2011, is set in the Southcoast area of MA, circa 1930, during Prohibition and the Great Depression.

The newly released Round Corners follows some of the same characters ten years later, circa 1940, and the era of World War II.

Order direct at 508-992-4123 or CLEMCTP@COMCAST.NET to receive personalized autographed copies.

Also available at Isabelle's, in Mattapoisett, Lloyd's Market, in Rochester, and The Bookstall, in Marion.

In addition to the top individual fundraisers, "Mimi's Swimmers" (Bryan, Laura and Sarah Robertson of South Dartmouth) were the top fundraising team with a total of $2,025.

After the Swim, participants, volunteers and fans celebrated at a finish line beach party, complete with food and drinks, massage therapists, live music from El-Caribe and a live radio broadcast with Michael Rock of FUN 107. The event concluded with an awards ceremony.

For the second year in a row, the fastest swimmer was 17-year-old Alex Gallant of Lakeville, who covered the course in 21:12. Right behind him was 18-year-old Nathan Garner of Nashua, NH, with a time of 21:27 and first-time Buzzards Bay Swim participant Frank Wuest of Boston with a time of 21:32. The Wheeler Watershed Challenge Cup for the fastest team went to the Team Westport (Elizabeth Geiger, William Krause and David Lippin) with an average team time of 27:17.

The Quicks Awards for the fastest boys and girls high school teams both went to Apponequet High School in Lakeville. The Apponequet boys team (Josh Beck, Alex Gallant and Nicholas McKenna, all 17) had a combined total time of 23:29 and the Apponequet Lady Lakers (Kaitlyn Barrack, 17, Kaye D'Andrea, 17 and Brienna Harrison, 16) had a combined total time of 26:50. The two teams will each bring a $1,000 prize back to their school.

July Programs at Plumb Library

"Just the Facts," the nonfiction book discussion group, will be reading Travels with Charley: In Search of America, by John Steinbeck. In September 1960, John Steinbeck and his poodle Charley embarked on a journey across America. This chronicle of their trip meanders through scenic backroads and speeds along anonymous superhighways, moving from small towns to growing cities to glorious wilderness. Originally published in 1962, it provides an intimate and personal look at one of America's most beloved writers in the later years of his life. It was written during a time of upheaval and racial tension in the South, which Steinbeck witnessed firsthand, and is a stunning evocation of America on the eve of a tumultuous decade. We will discuss this book on Thursday, July 17 at 6:30 pm. Copies are available at the desk.

Café Parlez' selection for July is The Eyre Affair by Jasper Fforde. Welcome to a surreal version of Great Britain, circa 1985, where time travel is routine, cloning is a reality, and literature is taken very, Very, VERY seriously. In detective Thursday Next's world, you can literally get lost in a book and have to be rescued by her team, the Special Operatives. When characters begin disappearing from books, Thursday must track down the villain and enter the novels herself to avert a heinous act of literary homicide. We will discuss this book on Thursday, July 31 at 6:30 pm. Books are available at the desk, or bring your own copy.

Special programs in July include: Family Story Time on Tuesdays at 11:00 am; the Mad Science Science Club for grades K-6 on Mondays starting July 14 at 4:00 pm; Flower Power - draw, paint, and dissect plants on Thursdays starting July 17-31 at 3:00 pm; Mr. Vinny's Li'l Puppet Puppet Show: learn how puppets and masks are made, and play with the puppets on Thursday, July 10 at

Osprey Marsh Gifted to SLT

The Sippican Lands Trust is excited to announce the recent acquisition of "Osprey Marsh," a spectacular 19.8 acre waterfront property that was recently given as a gift by the Howland family of Marion in early 2014. Thanks to the family's generosity, the SLT now owns 28.7 contiguous waterfront acres off of Point Road in Marion. Our 8.9 acre property, "Howland Marsh," which was acquired by the trust from the family in 1995 and together with "Osprey Marsh" constitutes a quarter mile of protected shoreline in Planting Island Cove.

Mary Howland Smoyer, along with her three siblings, Meg, Edward and George, spearheaded the effort to make this gift a possibility. The Howland family has a long and meaningful history of land ownership in Marion. Presenting the gift, Mary said, "Osprey Marsh is land that we four inherited from our grandparents, Edward and Eleanor Howland. Eleanor first came to Marion as a child, and later, settled here year round with Edward in 1930. Eleanor, in particular, taught us a love of nature; especially birds, shells, ocean creatures, and wildflowers, the tupelo and the eel grass, lady slippers and ferns, the horseshoe crab and the wentletrap, the hummingbird and the blue heron, the Atlantic white cedar and the great osprey. This gift honors our grandparents' legacy and follows their intent. Eleanor left written instructions that at any time, the property could be transferred for the benefit of the town and its inhabitants or to an educational or wildlife organization, to do so." Continuing the Howland legacy, Mary feels strongly that this combination wetland and upland parcel remain untouched in its natural state and be made available to the public for recreational and educational purposes through the SLT.

As part of the terms of the gift, the Sippican Lands Trust is working on the property to ready its use by the public in late summer. There will soon be an off-street parking area, a kiosk and property marker, and a beginning trail down through the upland to a water vista on the shoreline. Planning is in the works for a future, developed trail system through the property with the goal to connect "Osprey Marsh" with "Howland Marsh" next door. The hope is to have an extensive boardwalk system through the wetland areas with viewing platforms at key intervals. Current recreational maps with informative historic and environmental information using the latest technology are also an intention. The SLT is also hoping to erect at least one osprey nest, although the appropriate research for this, and all other listed elements, needs to be done before its installation.

The Sippican Lands Trust is deeply thankful to the Howland family, and especially Mary, for this amazing gift to the trust and to the public. Please stay tuned as the opening day nears and as all future plans unfold.

Please do not hesitate to contact SLT Executive Director Robin Shields at 508-748-3080 or online at robinshields@sippicanlandstrust.org if you have any questions.

2014 Tri-Town Basketball Camp

There is still space available for the 2014 Tri-Town Basketball Camp, under the direction of Coach Rick Regan. It will be held again this summer at the Old Rochester Regional High School gymnasium. The camp is for boys and girls in grades 4 through 9. This is the 18th year the Tri-Town Basketball Camp has been under the direction of Coach Regan. Over the last 20 years, he has coached a number of teams and levels at Old Rochester Regional Senior and Junior High School as well as AAU for boys and girls.

The first session is for boys and will be held from Monday, July 14 to Thursday, July 17. Boys presently in grades 4, 5, and 6 (school year 2013 - 14) will attend from 9:00 am - 12:00 pm. Boys presently in grades 7, 8, and 9 (school year 2013 -14) will attend from 1:00 - 4:00 pm.

The second session is a combination of girls and boys in the morning session and all girls in the afternoon session. It will be held from Monday, July 21 to Thursday, July 24. Girls and boys presently in grades 4, 5 and 6 (school year 2013 - 14) will attend from 9:00 am - 12:00 pm. Girls (only) presently in grades 7, 8 and 9 (school year 2013-14) will attend from 1:00 - 4:00 pm.

The camp focuses on the fundamentals and development of shooting, passing, dribbling, ball handling, rebounding, post play, as well as individual and team defense. The camp counselors who assist Coach Regan will be former and current players from Old Rochester as well as other local area coaches including Adam Rogers, who is the boys JV coach at Old Rochester.

Registration forms were distributed to the local schools in early May but can now be obtained through Coach Regan's camp website, <http://tritownbasketballcamp.weebly.com>. The cost of the camp is $120 per session. Space is available in all sessions at this time, but the camp dates are getting closer, so please send in your registration form and payment as soon as possible. For more information or questions, please email Coach Regan at coachregan3@gmail.com. Also, you may look at pictures from past camps on our website, or Like us on Facebook. We look forward to seeing our former and new campers this summer!

Mattapoisett Summer Reading Takes Off!

The Mattapoisett Library's "Fizz, Boom, Read" summer reading program has blasted off this week, and there are many activities for children of all ages and their families. Beginning with a scavenger hunt featuring simple machines, families can stop in and enjoy many programs and events, and earn great prizes throughout the six weeks of the program. Participants who register and complete the program are eligible for prizes and the Ice Cream Sundae party to be held on August 13. Visit the library to pick up a complete calendar of events, or visit the library's website at www.mattapoisettlibrary.org to see the calendar.

On July 8 at 10:30 am, there will be a "Popcorn" presentation by Kay Alden for young children. Move and groove like popping corn!

Got Magic? Scott Jameson will present his wonderful "Magical Science" program on Wednesday, July 9 at 1:00 pm. Perfect for families.

Drop-in story times are held each Thursday from 10:30 to 11:00 am. Come by and enjoy the air conditioning while your children enjoy special stories read by library staff.

What to do on a rainy day? Show your children the new children's educational games computers, play with the library's Legos, or borrow a chess set and start a game. There are crafts each week to enjoy and plenty of new books for children and parents to enjoy. And don't forget that the library lends DVDs, video games, fishing poles, puzzles, and cake pans.

For Teens: Don't miss the Sword Combat Demonstration on Friday, July 11 from 3:00 to 4:30 pm. Design a Banned Book Poster, and have an opportunity to win an amazing Banned Books raffle basket filled with neat stuff. On July 23, artists Andy and Veronica Fish will be on hand to teach how to draw manga. Sign up any time. These programs are brought to you by the Institute for Museum and Library Services through funds administered by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners.

Obituaries:

Barry Thomas Rose, age 43 died suddenly from cardiac arrest Sunday, June 22, 2014. He was the beloved husband of Jennifer L. (Machado) Rose with whom he shared 10 wonderful years of marriage.

Barry was born in New Bedford and graduated from New Bedford Voc-Tech High School in 1988. He was a life long resident of Fairhaven before moving to Mattapoisett. Barry was a loving husband, caring, protective daddy and amazing friend. He loved making his children laugh, loved fishing with family and friends, walks in the woods, and had a passion for finding thrown away treasures and motorized equipment (working or not). Thankfully, a dear friend reminded us to cancel his layaway at Cody and Tobin!

He will be remembered for his strong "Working Man" ethic, infectious smile, quick, sometimes sarcastic wit and genuine effort to help others, all the time.

He is survived by his wife and four beautiful children: Tyler Thomas Rose of Charleston, SC, Ryan Arthur Rose of Fairhaven, Rachel Evelyn and Ethan Henry Rose of Mattapoisett; Parents: Raymond Henry and Janice (Poirier) Cote of Fairhaven and the late Brian Thomas Rose Sr.; Brother: Brian Thomas Rose Jr. of Fairhaven; Sister: Kimberly Anne (Rose) Grodzki and her life partner Timothy M. Ray; In-Laws Richard and Carol (Vieira) Machado; Sister-in-Law: Charlene A. Vermette and husband Mark J. of New Bedford; several nephews, nieces, aunts, uncles, and cousins.

His Memorial Service will be held on Wednesday, July 30, 2014 at 11:00 A.M. in Seamen's Bethel, Johnny Cake Hill, New Bedford. In Lieu of flowers donations can be made to Southcoast Health Bereavement Program/External Affairs 101 Page St. New Bedford MA 02740. Burial is private. Arrangements under the care of the Waring-Sullivan Home of Memorial Tribute at Fairlawn, 180 Washington St., Fairhaven. Visit www.waring-sullivan.com for tributes.

If you have a notice you would like to have included in the Milestone section, please contact our office at : 508 758-9055, by fax at 508-758-4845, or by email at office@wanderer.com. Included in the Milestone Section is Birth Announcements, Obituaries, Engagement Notices, Wedding Notices, Anniversaries and Memorials.

For older children, junior high and high school students: check out our new Student Lounge and Studio on the mezzanine! Sumo Lounge chairs, art supplies, and more are available for you to use.

There will be lots of fun programs on the library lawn during Harbor Days, including a Tiki Bar, so continue to check listings in local media and on the library's website and Facebook pages.

Harbor Days Fundraiser for HH & H

Visit our Helping Hands and Hooves table to enter a raffle and win prizes from your favorite local places. Merchants have generously donated hundreds of dollars in gifts for the benefit of Helping Hands and Hooves of Mattapoisett.

Helping Hands and Hooves is a local not-for-profit therapeutic riding organization run by Julie Craig and Debby Dyson. Therapeutic riding uses equine-oriented activity for the purpose of contributing positively to cognitive, physical, emotional, and social well-being of individuals with special needs. Visit our HH&H table during Harbor Days Festival and enter to win one of the many gifts from some of your favorite local places!

SLT to Offer Painting Class

The Sippican Lands Trust (SLT) is excited to offer our first ever, outdoor painting workshop! Come join renowned artist, Kim Barry, on Saturday, July 12 (with a rain date of Sunday, July 13) from 9:00 am - 1:00 pm and enjoy instruction and painting on one of SLT's beautiful and inspiring properties.

Kim has an impressive background in the arts in both training and experience. She holds a Master of Fine Arts in Painting from the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth, a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Sculpture from the Rhode Island School of Design, and an Associate of Fine Arts from Colby Sawyer College. She has an extensive resume of art-related jobs and teaching history covering the past 20 years. Currently, she serves as the Chairman of the Art Department at CATS Academy in Boston. This is an amazing opportunity for painters of all levels, in both oil and acrylic paints!

The workshop will be held on SLT's White Eagle Property located off of Parlowtown Road in Marion. Lunch and refreshments will be provided. Please bring your own supplies. Space is limited to 20 participants for this event and registration is required. It is open to everyone; however, SLT members can register for free and non-members will be charged $20.

Please call the office at 508-748-3080 or email info@sippicanlandstrust.org to register. It is first come, first serve, so register today! If you find that you are unable to attend, please let us know so we can make the spot available to someone else. Thank you!

Best Wishes Class of 2014!

EDITOR'S PICK OF THE WEEK

You Can't Wash Your Car On The Wharf!

One of the upsides of attending town government meetings is that one learns a great deal about all kinds of stuff. Over the past year or so, I've attended meetings of the Conservation Committee, Planning Board, Zoning Board of Appeals, Board of Selectmen, Marine Advisory Board, Agricultural and Historical Commission, Finance Committee, Capitol Planning, and Community Preservation Committee. In addition, I've attended a few school board meetings as well as many community events. All of these meetings and activities have given me insights into the people who work for us and the commitment of community leaders, both elected and volunteers. You all have my respect and appreciation.

The downside is that when I see things that just aren't right according to our town's rules, I want to speak out. This isn't always the most popular thing to do. Well, the longer I live, the more I understand myself and one thing is for sure, I'm not afraid of being the one that points out a problem or calling someone out for going against the rules. Without rules, our social structure would collapse and chaos would ensue.

So, as I listened with growing concern at a recent meeting to the issues facing the jewel in the town's crown – our wharves – I took down the salient points, eager to report them to you. On a personal level, it is my belief that if more people understood the complexities of running a town and if more people took the time to help, more solutions to problems would be found. Therefore, I try my best to make sure our readership is informed.

In the ensuing article on that meeting, I mention that the harbormaster shared recent problems with water pipes leaking, electrical conduits corroding, wharves becoming unstable, and people breaking the rules. While most residents and visitors who use our waterways heed the rules and regulations documented for the smooth business-like operation of our wharves, some people feel a bit more privileged than that.

Like renting moorings for instance – you can't do that. It is against the rules of the state and the town to rent a mooring lawfully permitted to you. The town is not in the business of helping you line your pockets. You may not like it, and you may have been doing it for many generations, but it is wrong. There are people who have been on mooring waiting lists for years. If you are not going to use your mooring, don't you think you should let someone else have a turn? And certainly, if you are only holding the permit to supplement your income, you should know just how wrong that is.

If you have a dinghy, it has to be permitted and you can't place it wherever you feel like placing it while you go about your summer's day. You have to place it in one of the prescribed locations that have been set aside for this purpose. You can pull up onto private property, but you better make sure you have permission to do so or that it's your property.

On Ship Street, if you have a current permit, you can place your dinghy there, but you can't block access to the public beach, nor can you put it on the private property that abuts this tiny space. You can't put a dinghy on eel grasses – to do so is harmful to the vegetation – at the Mattapoissett Landing. This location is also governed by the harbormaster, and there are a specific number of slots. Speaking of wait lists, there are wait lists for slips and dinghy slots at all town-operated locations.

And you can't wash or rinse your motor vehicle off on the town wharves. If you do this, you are actually stealing water that has been paid for by the waterfront enterprise. The water supplied to the wharves is there for those boaters who have paid fees to tie-up at the wharves for the purposes of replenishing water on-board or to rinse off their decks. The hoses along the wharves belong to those boaters and were not put there for you to drive down the wharf and rinse off your car!

After hearing about all the troubles the town is presently facing with water pipe leakage at the wharves and the problems facing the harbormaster in trying to control costs while wrapping her arms around the income sources for this free standing waterfront enterprise, I'm outraged that people think the water is free. As the saying goes "there ain't no free lunch." There ain't no free water on the wharves for your personal use. All the water supplied to the wharves is metered and paid for by revenue generated through various waterfront and boating sources. The full scope of those sources is presently under review as this enterprise with the new harbormaster at the helm struggles to keep the ship afloat.

While the harbormaster, town administrator, selectmen, commission and board members, and all those employed by the town work their tails off for us, let us be mindful of our own responsibilities. In a democratic society, it is the rules that hold those self-evident truths together. Yes, pursue your life and your liberties, but wash your car at home!

Cow Chip Bingo at RCF!

Watch cows do their magic as they meander over 600 virtual squares of prime real estate at the Rochester Country Fair. This country-style fundraising event will take place on Thursday, August 14 at 65 Pine Street in Rochester. Gates open at 4:00 pm and cows will make their appearances around 8:00 pm. Come watch these well-fed cows take care of business and enjoy all the fun events, crafts and food that the fair offers.

How it works: 600 squares will be sold in this random game of chance. Each parcel of real estate costs only $5, so get your tickets before they're gone! Tickets will be sold in advance only and will not be sold at the Fair. Participants are randomly assigned a horizontal and vertical coordinate on the Cow-Chip Bingo game board.

The first place winning square will be the first cow plop made, followed by the second cow plop, then the third cow plop. Prizes of $500, $300 and $200 will be awarded in that order for the first, second and third cow

Following the opening concert on July 5, the series will continue with concerts every Friday evening beginning on July 11 and ending on August 29. All concerts will begin at 7:00 pm, weather permitting, and are free and open to the public.

Friends of Bike Path

The SouthCoast Bikeway Alliance (an Alliance of all South Coast Friends of Bike Paths) is announcing the First Annual South Coast Summer Bike Challenge. Do you enjoy bicycling? Would you like to start a mid-year fitness resolution? If so, join forces with others in your community in a Summer Bike Challenge. During the next three months – July, August and September – communities will compete against each other to log the most miles collectively on their bicycles. All you need to do is 1) Ride your bike whenever and wherever; 2) Log your miles online at the National Bike Challenge; and 3) Win big for your health and your community. Your online account shows you how many miles you have ridden, and you can compete with your friends. It's amazing how it all adds up. The winning community will have bragging rights and a trophy to display prominently in their city or town, until we do it next year. "Prizes" will be awarded at the conclusion of the event, with awards to: a) The Community that logs the most miles (per 1,000 residents); b) Individual leader - Male and Female; c)

MOVIE REVIEW

Thumbs Up

By Rob Gonsalves

Life Itself. Featuring Roger Ebert and Chaz Ebert.
Directed by Steve James. Running time: 120 minutes.
MPAA rating: R.

Well, Roger, you made it. You're in a movie. Not only that, you're the star and focus. Life Itself is based partly on your memoir of the same name. Readers who are not you will no doubt wonder why I'm addressing this review to you, who are not here, and not to them. Well, it's because you had a knack for writing reviews seemingly addressed to me and me only, and millions of other readers likely felt and feel the same way. You didn't bother much with film theory or ten-dollar words. You wanted everyone to understand you: the film buff, the folks at the bar, the kid who was just starting to develop critical thinking. The movie about you is likewise straightforward. It doesn't exclude anyone. It doesn't get fancy. It just tells your story.

The documentarian Steve James, whose great film Hoop Dreams you tirelessly promoted, has directed Life Itself with open eyes and no fear of showing you in your least glamorous moments. You allowed James to film you undergoing an undignified throat-suction procedure, and then you emailed him that you were glad his movie would show what is seldom seen in a movie. You always respected that in a movie: something you hadn't seen before, and something that told the truth. That suction bit, hard as it is for the rest of us to watch, is almost the defining moment of the movie, since we know it's there because you wanted it there. You also wanted the movie to tell the truth about your lost years as an alcoholic, when you would kill hours in bars and take home women who were bad for you.

Finally you met, and married, a woman who was good for you: Chaz Hammelsmith Ebert, whom you called "the great fact of my life." You would no doubt be grateful to know that Chaz comes off beautifully in the movie, yet still human, someone who could get frustrated with you when you didn't feel up to doing things you needed to do. There is a scene where you don't want to climb some stairs, and Chaz says you have to, and eventually you do it. Many of us have lived this scene in one or both of the roles. We can all be annoying and stubborn at times, and you were no exception. You would have respected a movie that touches on realities of human relationships that Hollywood usually ignores.

Many of your friends, some famous and some only known in Chicago newspaper circles, speak movingly on your behalf. One friend, of course, is absent: Gene Siskel, who died in 1999. Gene's widow, Marlene, says at your funeral in the movie that when you were still alive she felt as though she still had a piece of Gene left. Life Itself devotes a chunk of time to your prickly partnership with Gene, with many amusing outtakes of you two roasting each other. But Marlene reads aloud a letter you sent her in your later years, saying that as you got older and sicker you thought more and more about him. You soldiered on without him, first with other critics and then as a solo act, something Gene might have snippily said would never and should never happen. But in the end he probably would have been proud that, just as you were losing your ability to speak, you gained a new voice on Twitter and in your blog. You were both tough Chicago newspapermen who wanted to keep going no matter what.

As Life Itself goes on it becomes more cinematic, as if your fading life force were naturally resolving itself into the movie it would become. It is difficult for those of us who were fond of you to see you so frail and to see the increasingly depressed-sounding emails you were sending Steve James. You sensed the movie was nearing its conclusion. You wanted to see more; you wanted to see what happened next. You didn't want to leave Chaz and your stepchildren and stepgrandchildren. For all that, Life Itself doesn't milk your death for cheap tears. Chaz soldiers on without you, as we all must do when bereaved, and carries on your website and your life passion. She's sad, Roger — we all are — but she's going to be okay, and the movie notes that. Beyond all that, your life has made for a sharp, intimate, honest and compelling film. Congratulations, Roger. Thumbs up.

contributions to the local community. But The Wanderer needs your help in selecting these “unsung heroes.”

The requirements are simple. Nominees must be legal residents, for at least five years, of Mattapoisett, Marion or Rochester and must have contributed in some way to the overall benefit of the community – either directly to town residents, or indirectly through efforts in promoting town activities, or working to keep the wheels of local government well oiled. The only restriction is that these persons cannot benefit from their efforts in any other way – either financially or politically (hence, sitting elected officials are not eligible).

In doing this, we hope to applaud those who are rarely recognized for their countless hours of service and focus on the many people “behind the scenes” who remain otherwise anonymous but provide crucial support to many town functions. Like the keel of a ship, which keeps the vessel from capsizing, the recipients of the Annual Wanderer Keel Award will be recognized for their stalwart efforts in keeping the community on an “even keel.”

Past recipients of this honor include:

TriTOWN HAPPENINGS

Hundreds of Southcoasters packed the grounds at Fort Phoenix in Fairhaven and lined the sides of the hurricane barrier to witness the homecoming of the Charles W. Morgan on June 25. As the whaleship emerged from the band of fog and inched closer to the harbor, excitement grew and finally peaked when the Fairhaven Village Militia fired off the five cannons, welcoming the ship back to its homeport. The Charles W. Morgan will be docked in New Bedford until July 6. By Jean Perry

With summer about to begin, both according to the calendar and the ending of the school year, the library staff invites residents and friends to send their summer photos to be considered for the cover photo on the library's Facebook page.

Each week the library will choose a picture for the cover photo on Facebook, giving credit to the photographer. The photo might include family outings, Mattapoisett scenes, and summer fun. Photos will also be printed and shared on a board in the library for everyone to enjoy during a visit to the library.

"We hope to share some great photos of the summer season in our community", said Susan Pizzoloto, Library Director. "Summer is a wonderful time here in Mattapoisett, and the library would like to share photos of special moments and scenes taken by residents and

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Get your facts together and become familiar with them before you have to face up to that interview. The better prepared you are, the easier it will be to make that important impression.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) New information might warrant changing your mind about a recently made decision. Never mind the temporary confusion it might cause. Acting on the truth is always preferable.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Creating a loving atmosphere for those you care for could pay off in many ways. Expect to hear some unexpected but very welcome news that can make a big difference in your life.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Stepping away from an old and seemingly insoluble problem might be helpful. Use the time to take a new look at the situation and perhaps work out a new method of dealing with it.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You're still in a favorable goal-setting mode. However, you might need to be a little more realistic about some of your aims. Best to reach for what is currently doable. The rest will follow.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A setback is never easy to deal with. But it could be a boon in disguise. Recheck your proposal, and strengthen the weak spots. Seek advice from someone who has "been there and done that."

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Coming up with a new way of handling a tedious job-regulated chore could lead to more than just a congratulatory memo once the word reaches the "right people." Good luck.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) What you might call determination someone else might regard as stubbornness. Look for ways to reach a compromise that won't require a major shift of views on your part.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You're still in a vulnerable mode vis-a-vis "offers" that sound too good to be true. So continue to be skeptical about anything that can't be backed up with provable facts.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Thrift is still dominant this week. What you don't spend on what you don't need will be available for you to draw on should a possible (albeit temporary) money crunch hit.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Staying close to home early in the week allows for some introspection about your social life. Sort out your feelings before rejoining your fun-time fellows on the weekend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) It can be a bit daunting as well as exciting to find yourself finally taking action on a long-delayed move for a change. It helps to stay with it when others rally to support you.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your love of home and family provide you with the emotional support you need to find success in the outside world.

Vendors Sought for Country Fair

The Rochester Country Fair is seeking interested vendors for participation in the upcoming Rochester Country Fair. The Fair, now in its 15th year, features a unique mix of old-fashioned events and contests, a parade, woodsman show, tractor pulls and so much more.

This year's "Team Spirit" Theme Fair will be held on Thursday, August 14 thru Sunday, August 17 at 65 Pine Street in Rochester. Craft vendor booth spaces are available for a fee of $125, while food vendor spaces start at $350. Space is limited and is given on a first come, first serve basis, with preference given to vendors selling unique and home made items. Applications and registration information can be found on the Fair's website at www.rochesterma.com or emailing rcfvendor@comcast.net.

For those interested in visiting the fair, it will offer many unique old-fashioned events for the entire family.

The Dixie Swim Club: When the Marion Art Center produced five performances of The Dixie Swim Club in March of 2014, three of the five shows completely sold out and the other two were very nearly sell outs. So when plans for a summer musical fell through, the Theater Committee and director Rex McGraw knew that they already had a hit on their hands and decided to offer it again to the summer community. It is the perfect entertainment for a hot summer's evening! If you missed this production in March, don't hesitate to make your reservations now!

Performing four shows only, the Marion Art Center's production of The Dixie Swim Club, a comedy by Jessie Jones, Nicholas Hope and Jamie Wooten will run on Friday, August 1 and Saturday, August 2. All shows start at 7:30 pm. The all-female production in two acts is directed by Rex McGraw and features Marion Art Center Players Suzie Kokkins, Suzy Taylor, Michele Letourneau, Kim Teves and Linda Landry.

Enduring friendships are among the most important aspects of human existence. They sustain us when all else fails — marriages, children, careers, investments. The Dixie Swim Club, in many ways a companion piece to Steel Magnolias, celebrates the best of women's relationships and the best aspects of Southern culture. And if you loved the quick repartee and situational comedy of TV's "The Golden Girls," you will love this show as writers Jessie Jones, Nicholas Hope and Jamie Wooten all worked on that show.

The five Southern women, whose friendships began many years ago on their college swim team, set aside a long weekend every August to recharge those relationships. Free from husbands, kids and jobs, they meet at the same beach cottage on North Carolina's Outer Banks to catch up, laugh and meddle in each other's lives. In the case of The Dixie Swim Club, their worlds revolve around those weekends at their cottage, and they're at their happiest when they're with one another, a cocktail in one hand and a biscuit in the other.

The Dixie Swim Club focuses on four of those weekends and spans a period of thirty-three years. Sheree (played by Kim Teves), the spunky team captain, who has married their swim coach's son, desperately tries to maintain her organized and "perfect" life, and continues to be the group's leader. Dinah (played by Linda Landry), the wisecracking overachiever, is a lawyer dynamo. But her victories in the courtroom are in stark contrast to the frustrations of her personal life. Lexie (played by Suzie Kokkins), pampered and outspoken, is determined to hold on to her looks and youth as long as possible. She enjoys being married – over and over and over again.

THE GOD OF THUNDER TRYOUTS

Amber Waves by Dave T. Phipps

The self-deprecating and acerbic Vernadette (played by Michele Letourneau), acutely aware of the dark cloud that hovers over her life, has decided to just give in and embrace the chaos. And sweet, eager-to-please Jeri Neal (played by Suzy Taylor) experiences a late entry into motherhood that takes them all by surprise. As their lives unfold and the years pass, these women increasingly rely on one another, through advice and raucous repartee, to get through the challenges – men, sex, marriage, parenting, divorce, aging – that life flings at them. And when fate throws a wrench into one of their lives in the second act, these friends, proving the enduring power of “teamwork,” rally ‘round their own with the strength and love that takes this comedy in a poignant and surprising direction.

By the time The Dixie Swim Club reaches its final act, the characters are in their late 70s, and we’ve seen 33 years unfold inside the small cottage. The story has heart. You can’t watch characters develop relationships and not get attached to them. Some of the developments are sad, some surprising, some satisfying. But the story’s serious side isn’t half as good as the humor.

To make a reservation, please call 508-748-1266. Guests are invited to bring their own refreshments. Cabaret tables are available for reserved parties of four. Reservations are highly recommended as this is sure to be a sellout! Tickets are $12.50 for MAC members and $15 for the general public. The Marion Art Center is located at 80 Pleasant Street in Marion, MA 02738.

Arts in the Park: On Saturday, July 12, from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm, the Marion Art Center will host its 8th Annual Arts In The Park, at Bicentennial Park in Marion, MA 02738. Bicentennial Park is located at the corner of Main Street and Spring Streets, where there is plenty of free parking. Admission is free.

A wide variety of fine art and artisanal crafts will be displayed in tents throughout the Park. Arts in the Park is a juried show and sale featuring local artists and artisans who will be offering jewelry, glass, paintings and prints, baskets, ceramics, textiles, collage, photography, turned, carved and painted wood, garden sculpture and garden furniture. Over forty-five artists and artisans will be exhibiting their work. There will be live entertainment by the Showstoppers of Mattapoissett, and the New Bedford Museum of Art's ArtMobile will be on hand to provide art projects for kids from 11:00 am to 2:00 pm. Food and beverages will be offered by Harriett's catering.

There will be a raffle of art work which has been donated by the artist exhibitors. Raffle tickets will be $1 and can be purchased throughout the day. The proceeds of the raffle will benefit the Marion Art Center.

This year's exhibitors will include ceramic artists Kim Barry, Chrissy Feiteira, Karen Zaharee, Tessa Morgan, and Pat Warwick. Fiber creations will be offered by Liz Howland (hand dyed silk scarves and shawls), Cindy Walsh, Sue Handman, Heather Kidson, and Mary Monteiro. There will be Nantucket Baskets by William Judd. Fine jewelry will be offered by Emily Condon, Lynn Hahn, Trish Kozub, Karen Silvia, Donna Andrews-Maness, Julie Kohaya, Lisa Cutler, Marcia Livada, and Harmony Winters. Paintings, prints, photographs and collage will be offered by Mary Ross, Sarah Brown, Kim Weineck, Alice Shire, Jae Shaughnessy, Donna Secour, Carol Way Wood, Barry Cronin and Mark Mueller. the use of games, journals, introductory science techniques and hands-on activities, this will be a wonderful first look at life in our coastal environment. For students entering grades 1 and 2.

Coastal Explorations I & II: The Coastal Explorations I program will feature explorations of our rocky intertidal shoreline, salt marshes, estuaries as well as freshwater riverbanks, swamps, ponds and bogs. We will look at the birds, amphibians, fish and invertebrates that make these areas so special. For students entering grades 3 and 4.

During our Coastal Explorations II program, we will further enjoy the unique habitats Marion has to offer, including several field trips to expand our knowledge of our Coastal and Freshwater ecosystems. For students entering grades 5-7.

Dates and time for all sessions are:

Session I: July 7 - July 18, 2014

Session II: August 4 - August 15, 2014

Sessions will be held from 9:00 am - noon, Monday - Friday
Cost: $200 with membership and $250 for nonmembers

Registration is limited to 15 students per group, so register early to guarantee your child a spot. To register for these programs, please visit the Marion Natural History Museum website: www.marionmuseum.org, print out a registration form, and submit with payment. Summer will

A POWERFUL PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
 Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so I can attain my goals, you who give me the divine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer, to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory, thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.
 The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days, the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the June 26, 2014 issue the Aardvark was on page 58!
